

Enterprise Risk Global Sourcing Assessment Tool

Your Challenges

Brand value protection is at the forefront of all business decisions. In your quest for first-class corporate citizenship in a world of ever increasing global expansion and enterprise, your brand reputation is always at risk. So how do you achieve social accountability in different regions of the globe without even leaving your office?

Gain the insight you need to manage both your brand and profit line utilizing a fact-based risk assessment decision model that can show you every country, industry, and facility in the world with no traveling needed.

When it comes to globally managing suppliers and the risks associated with each, you constantly have to ask yourself the difficult questions such as:

- What are the influential parameters of each country you are interested in sourcing to?
- What are the influential parameters of each industry you are looking to enter?
- What are the influential parameters of each facility everywhere in the world?

Our Solutions

Getting the need-to-know of each country, industry, and facility as well as the interaction and influence each has on each other everywhere in the world just got a whole lot easier.

A strategic outlook of your enterprise in every facet of the globe is no longer a dream but a service from your trusted partners at Intertek.
