

Supply chain security: security consultancy

Reducing the risk in a complex environment

“Tailor-made to address the concerns you have regarding risk and security.”

As world-leading Supply Chain Security consultants, Intertek Government Services have the expertise to advise and assist governments, airports, customs organisations, port authorities and businesses on protecting themselves from all supply chain security risks.

Our range of consultancy services can be tailor-made to address the concerns you have regarding risk and security, as well as developing the solutions to address these concerns.

Our holistic approach to security looks beyond regulation compliance and physical security to achieve integrated and cost-efficient solutions for customers operating within an increasingly complex and risk-fraught environment.

We offer specialised consultancy and training in the following areas:

- Security Threat, Risk Assessment and Planning
- Consultancy for Physical Security and Security Systems Design
- Risk, Crisis and Emergency Management
- ISPS Compliance and Supply Chain Security
- Security Project Management

Our scope includes:

- On-site surveys
- Verification of existing security systems
- Security threat and risk assessments
- Development of security plans and procedures
- Integration of security systems with other management systems
- Penetration tests to verify security systems
- Plus, ongoing activities such as:
 - monitoring a security system's performance
 - providing advice for everyday aspects of security.
